OS PRACTICAL MANUAL

- By Dipesh Adelkar

CMD commands

cls	Clear console screen date	Display current date time	Display current time ver	Display windows version hostname	Display hostname, will only work if CMD is open in adminstrator mode cd directory_name	Open directory cd..	Close the current working directory md directory_name	Create new directory rd directory_name	Used to delete the directory del file_name	Used to delete a file ren old_file_name new_file_name	Used to rename a file copy file_name path_location	Used to copy a file to a particular location move file_name path_location	Used to move a file to a particular location copy con file_name file_content ctrl + z	Used to create a file with content in it

CMD commands

type file_name	Display all the contents of the file color	The color command is used to change the colors of the text and background within the Command Prompt window.
dir	Display all the files and directories available in the working directory xcopy	The xcopy command can copy one or more files or directory trees from one location to another

Linux commands

pwd	Display current path cd ..	Close the current directory cd directory_name	Open a directory mkdir directory_name	Create new directory rmdir directory_name	Delete the existing directory Ls	List all the directories and files in the working directory mkdir -p dir1/dir2/dir3	Create parent and child directory rmdir -p dir1/dir2/dir3	Delete parent and child directory